BENEFITTING:

Like playing on the PGA TOUR, serving as a member of our Armed Forces takes discipline, diligence, hard work and commitment. TOUR players are indebted for the innumerable sacrifices made by our troops and their families. TOUR players show their support and appreciation by visiting troops in Iraq, visiting wounded soldiers in military hospitals, hosting golf clinics at military bases and participating in events benefitting Birdies for the Brave at TPCs and Heritage Golf Group properties.

Since 2005, TOUR players have helped to raise millions of dollars for select military homefront groups that provide critical programs to meet the specialized needs of wounded warriors and military families.

Birdies for the Brave is a non-profit organization created by TOUR player Phil Mickelson and his wife, Amy, to support troops injured during combat. For each birdie or eagle made on the PGA TOUR throughout the season, a contribution of $100 for a birdie or $500 for an eagle is made to Homes For Our Troops and Special Operations Warrior Foundation.

Together, anything's possible.®

PGA TOUR employees throughout the country support U.S. troops by sending comfort items to troops stationed overseas, initiating letter writing campaigns and volunteering their time to military homefront groups.

We invite you to join with PGA TOUR players and employees in supporting our troops by participating in fundraising events in your area, or by making a donation to one of our select military homefront groups. For more information on Birdies for the Brave, please visit WWW.BIRDIESFORTHEBRAVE.ORG
