Sue's Grounds Corner

It's that time of the year again fellow Palmer Ranch neighbors. It's Sandhill Crane colting season. Please, tell everyone you know who drives on Palmer Ranch roads to SLOW DOWN and stay within the speed limit. In the past few weeks, I've seen several new families of Sandhill Cranes on the property which means that there will be lots of babies crossing our roads in the coming weeks! If people just simply drive the speed limit, they should be able to spot the babies on the roads and be able to stop in time so that they're not killed! Nothing breaks this writer's heart more than seeing any dead animal on one of our roads, never mind a baby!!! Have you ever heard a female Crane crying after a lost baby, it's a sound I'll never forget, it's also a sound I hope none of you will ever have to hear.....

Did you know?

Baby Sandhill Cranes are called colts, because of their long strong legs. Sandhill Cranes mate for life and lay two eggs that incubate for about a month. Both parents take turns sitting on the eggs. A day after hatching, the colts can travel with their parents.

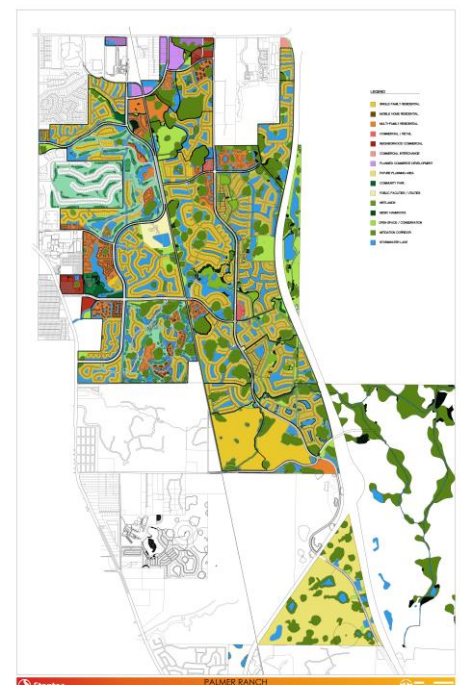

Everything You Need to Know About Palmer Ranch – Just How Big is Palmer Ranch?

The development area of Palmer Ranch is defined by the Master Development Order (MDO), filed with the state, region, and county. This instrument allows up to 14,200 residential building values, as well as other values, such as Commercial-Industrial space, within the development area.

Look to the Master Association website at www.palmerranch.net for outline of the development area containing 7,000± acres. Note from the website map the perimeter of the Development Area is not a rectangle.

Parcels of land within the MDO become part of the Master Association when an Incremental Development Order (IDO) is approved, thus size of the Master Association is not static. It will continue to grow until build out of land available within the Development Area.

There is an additional 2,400 acres (approximately) of Palmer Ranch, on the east side of I-75. At this time, this land is not anticipated to become part of the Master Association, and there is no Development Order for this land.

INTERSTATE 75 (I-75) NORTH CORRIDOR MASTER PLAN STUDY | 2022

Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) - District One

Financial Management No: 442518-1

The Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) invites you to a public meeting for the Southwest Connect™ I-75 North Corridor Master Plan from south of State Route (SR) 777 (River Road) in Sarasota County to north of Moccasin Wallow Road in Manatee County. This Master Plan will lead to the long-term improvement of the interstate corridors in Southwest Florida by identifying solutions that are expected to help move people and goods safely and efficiently while balancing regional transportation needs with community concerns.

FDOT is currently analyzing the interstate system's existing transportation challenges. The findings of the analysis, as well as recommendations to enhance safety and mobility, are documented in a Master Plan. The planned improvements identified in the Master Plan may include widening, managed lanes, modifying interchanges, and/or evaluating new interchanges. The Master Plan will also include public outreach, such as this, which will serve as input in the identification and prioritization of projects to move forward into the Project Development process. This project is currently in the Planning and Feasibility Phase, the beginning of the process. This long-range approach provides a regional perspective to identify the areas where future demand is predicted. This Master Plan will serve as a guide to allow FDOT to focus future efforts and funding toward the most critical areas first.

For your convenience, FDOT is providing multiple ways to participate:

Community Association Civility Pledge

A commitment to fostering a climate of open discussion and debate, mutual respect, and tolerance between all who live in, work in, and visit our community.

1. We expect each individual, whether a resident, guest, board or committee member, community association manager, staff member, business partner, or contractor, to be accountable for his or her own actions and words.

2. We believe all interactions in the community should be civil despite any differences of opinion on a particular issue. We believe in finding common ground and engaging in civil discussion about community issues important to each of us.

3. We vow to respect all points of view and will strive to provide a reasonable opportunity for all to express their views openly—without attacks and antagonization. We agree to keep our discussions focused on the business issues at hand, as well as on the ideas and desired outcomes.

4. We urge all residents to be engaged and informed. Get to know your neighbors, your board members, and your community manager. Attend meetings, join a committee, or serve on the board. Understand the community's rules, regulations, and covenants, and the value they add. Ask questions, share your opinions, and vote.

5. We also encourage all residents to review Community Associations Institute's (CAI) Rights and Responsibilities for Better Communities. The principles laid out in the document can serve as important guideposts for all those involved in our community: residents, guests, board and committee members, community association managers, staff members, business partners, and contractors. Read more at www.caionline.org/RightsandResponsibilities.

6. We believe these commitments to civility, as well as engaged and informed residents, are a vital part of our shared goal of being a vibrant, thriving community.

These commitments are guiding principles. They are not governing documents or legally enforceable and do not give rise to penalties if they are not followed.

If you agree with these commitments to civility, please sign and return the document.
